Internet Access/Photograph Authorization

Dear Parent or Guardian:

PHCA is pleased to offer students' access to the Internet via computer instructional technology resources. The instructional technology resources of PHCA represents a powerful educational tool which will allow your student to find information anywhere in the world. Your student will be able to connect to museums, major universities, national libraries, other schools and students around the world. Use of the technology resources for educational projects will assist in preparing your student for success in life and work in the 21st Century.

From school, your student can travel all over the world to gather information. It is possible that your student may find material on the Internet that you would consider objectionable. Although our guidelines outline appropriate use of technology resources in the school environment, we cannot guarantee that your student will not gain access to inappropriate material. We believe that the benefits to educators and students from access to technology resources, in the form of information and opportunities for collaboration, far exceed any disadvantages.

Your student's teacher will be reviewing the guidelines identified on our application and will explain the importance of using technology resources appropriately. This signed form grants your student permission to access, produce, video conference and communicate information on the Internet. Please note that your student's work may be published on the school's technology resources, as well as the school's web page.
